NATIONALISTS RE-CROSS YANGTSZE.

GENERALS CAPTURED AND EXECUTED.

WOOSUNG FORTS, SHELLED.

A feature of the China news over the week-end is the confirmation of a big Southern victory on the Yangtsze, and the taking of large numbers of Northern prisoners. A Chinese message received to-day states that the Southerners have crossed the river in pursuit of the Northern troops, and have advanced as far as Yangchow.

The Northerners have apparently evacuated Pukow. General Sun Chuan-fang is said to be preparing to make a stand further north. Meanwhile it is reported from Nanking, where there are 10,000 prisoners concentrated, that four of the captured Northern Generals have been executed.

Five shells have been fired, apparently by Northern warships, at the Woosung forts, but no damage has been done thereby.

Shanghai has given a hearty farewell to the Indian troops who are being withdrawn, following the recent decision to reduce the China defence force. Meanwhile, Communist agitators at Hankow have cabled to British Communists urging a demonstration in London for the purpose of getting all the British forces sent home.

CAPTAIN COURTNEY'S UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT.

London, Sept. 3. The Air Ministry last night received report from the steamer Josiah Macy that the lights of an aeroplane flying eastwards had been seen in mid-Atlantic at 9.40 p.m. on Wednesday. It is presumed this was the missing monoplane "St. Raphael," whose fuel supplies would be exhausted by midnight Thursday or shortly afterwards. On this assumption it was halfway across the Atlantic fifteen hours after departure. No news of its arrival anywhere has been received. It is considered that the only remaining hope for Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, Colone! R.A.F. and Miss G. C. Williams. Minchin and Captain Hamilton is that they may have been picked up by some vessel unequipped with wireless. The theory maintained is that intricate wind drifts over time has awaited a favourable op- Chater Road. the Atlantic drove the "St. Raphael" off its course and that the

CANTON EXTORTION.

One imagines that the story of what has happened in Canton during the past week must be unequalled in any part of the world, for it is impossible to imagine a greater piece of robbery than has been perpetrated by the Government upon the merchant and banking class. Let us concede the possibility that there was someat the financial overthrow of the regime and there is even then much room left to pass severe more nor less than official acts of armed robbery and of extortion. The Central Bank is a Government Bank, and when it started business it was known to have a real capital of about $50,000. It immediately issued about $10,000,000 worth of Notes which the Government forced into currency. Since then it must have issued fully $30,000,000 more—at least, that is the computation of a well-known Chinese merchant just down from Canton. It is perfectly natural that such notes, known to be without any solid financial backing, should have fallen on exchange and that when the Government ata "run" on the Central Bank by persons attempting to "redeem" what they knew to be almost worthless pieces of paper. And then the trouble started. The Government hatched up the story that there was a "plot" against it to strengthen public faith" and it physical superiority. called a meeting of merchants and heads of the Canton Chamber Commerce to discuss the matter. While that discussion was in progress, the meeting was raided by Government troops and the heads of the Chamber were forcibly seized and taken away as "guarantors." The Central Bank ceased to redeem its notes; the Government demanded a sum of $10,000,000 in cash from the mer chants, Banks were raided, money changers were made, prisoners in their own shops and a complete process of gang robbery and extor tion was gone through. The mer enlightened Government of Canton re-establishes its credit, and we are left wondering how long this newly-extorted money will last and when the merchants, (in other words the people) will again be held up at the point of the sword and ruthlessly robbed.

It is no use being mealy-mouthed about such an outrageous proceeding as that under discussion, and the only surprising thing about it is that the people of Canton are fools enough to allow their Government (the regime that came in with righteous slogans to remove oppression) to ride so lawlessly over them. If this is the kind of benign government the Kuomintang dispenses then we say in all earnestness that China needs a revolution from the bottomshe needs a people in revol is not a Chinese in South China who can deny the fact that, although there has been no fighting in Kwangtung for two years, the condition of the people is in a worse state to-day than it ever was owing to recurring fighting of | beri-beri. the days whon military personages like Lung Chai-kwong, Luk Wingting, Chan Kwing-ming, Chiang Kai-shek and others fought among themselves. Surely it is ironical to the degree of sadness that those who came heralding themselves joyous shouts of the populace have in turn been more oppressive than Kowloon Hospital. those whom they displaced.

Baldheaded men need no longer fear a visit to the barber, if the latter follows the example of a wellknown London establishment. The attendents there are forbidden to invite clients to purchase hair rethe storers, washes or pomades. Those who have still some hair left may hope to keep it, if they are saved from the worry of resisting the blandishments of the knights of the scissor and razor.

At the last meeting of the Anchorites, in their little Soho rendezous, members listened to one of the most thrilling stories ever unfolded in the warmth of an afterdinner atmosphere in a London restaurant. Engineer-Commander Rickinson, an active young man of great modesty, gave a lantern story of his experiences as the chief engineer in Shackleton's last expedition to the South Pole. The wonderful relation, in plain sailors' language, of how the wooden ship Endurance set out to Elephant Island and then to South Georgia, and how she was caught and crushed to death in great fields of ice, was vividly presented.

When I stepped quietly into my bus in Piccadilly after the lecture I marvelled at the pluck and courage of all those Britishers who spent years on the ice, living on room boy who was responsible for penguin flesh and seal steaks, and who sometimes had to shoot their own dogs in order to live, for the glory of trying to push the British Empire as far as the South Pole. Apart from the "local dishes" referred to, the weekly ration of these explorers was: Three lumps of sugar, two biscuits, a tablespoonful of methylated spirits, and a little tinned beef. No wonder Comman-Mr. Lindsell remarked that the der Rickinson looked so young and fresh! Obviously we all eat and drink far too much nowadays.

The Min River forms the main artery of commerce between the Fukien interior and the sea coast. The portion of the river between Yangkow and its estuary is broad and free from gorges or rapids. Above Yangkow the river branches off into two tributaries: the Tung Chi or eastern tributary and the Hsi Chi or western tributary, both draining a highly mountainous country, rich in raw materials. Between Fogehow and Yangkow, a type of flat-bottomed boat, about 40-60 feet from bow to stern and capable of carrying 200-300 piculs of cargo, is the common means of conveyance. The boat, though having a shallow draft, is not capable of negotiating the rapids or coping with swift currents. Above Yangkow, two types of boats, the "sparrow boat" and the "dove-tail boat", are employed. The "sparrow boat" is about 20 feet long and capable of loading 20-30 piculs. Its bottom is so constructed that it can be easily towed over rapids. The "dove-tail boat" is bigger than the "sparrow boat" and can navigate both the upper and the lower portions of the river.

Import Trade.

Among the imports from Focchow to the interior are salt, cotton cloth, and kerosene oil. The cargo is transported by the same kinds of boats, although the business is handled by different groups of merchants. The total year sales figure on the market of the interior amounts to over a million dollars. For salt, the interior depends entirely on the import from Foothow. In the year before last there was a salt famine in the interior caused by bandit activities, which interrupted the salt traffic between. Foochow and the interior, with the result that in certain districts salt was sold at over $10 a picul.

About $800,000 worth of different varieties of cotton cloth are exported from Foochow to the interior by the cloth dealers from the interior, who usually send down buying agents to Foochow to make the purchase, very few Foochow merchants exporting cloth to the interior on their own account. About $100,000 worth of kerosene oil is consumed in the interior.

The other commodities consumed in the interior are wheat flour sugar, dried oysters, salt fish, imported indigo, stearing candles soap, glass and other kinds of both foreign and home manufactures.

Bandits and Taxes.

The chief deterrent to the trade between Foochow and the interior is the physical difficulties encountered in the mountain streams. though banditry and high liking dues in recent years, have also greatly aggravated the position of the traders. ..

It has taxed the ingenuity of Fukien ship-wrights to design craft to negotiate the upper. reaches of the Min River. The boatmen often, meet with great difficulties at the shallows and rapids, especially in the low water season. At some points the boats have to be laboriously towed, and sometimes even lifted bodily over the shallows and rapids.

Banditry and high likin tax used to be great curses to the trades, but conditions have now been much improved.

A special office has been organised for the maintenance of peace and order in the interior, and the majority of the bandits have either been suppressed or absorbed into the army.

LAWN BOWLS.

SECOND DIVISION CHAMPIONSHIP.

The second division championship of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls League has been won by the Kowloon Cricket Club. They played their last match on Saturday, when they journeyed to the Yacht Club and returned victorious by 27 shots. It is impossible now for any other team to secure as many points as the K.C.C. Of their fourtoen matches they won II, the three defeats being at the hands of the East Point (twice) and Taikoo.

The only interest now remaining in the League is the runners-up position, which will be secured by either East Point or Taikoo.

Only one first division match was played yesterday, this being between the Kowloon Bowling Green Club and the Civil Service C.C. The Civil Service won a very interesting game by eleven shots.

The match between Kowloon Dock and Taikoo was postponed on account of the death of Mrs. Macaskill, whose funeral took place on Saturday after-

BAND CONCERT

QUEEN'S BATTALION'S FINE PROGRAMME.

There was again a large attendance at the Kowlon Dock bathing beach yesterday, when a well balanced programme was rendered by the full military band and drums of the 1st. Battalion of the Queen's Royal Regiment, by permission of Lieut. Col. R.G. Clarke, C.M.G., D.S.O., and officers. The band, alone, commenced the programme at five o'clock, the massed band and drums playing at 6.15.

The grand selection by German "Merrie England," commenced the programme. One of the most popular items was a selection from "No no Nanette," (Yonmans) which was followed by a trombone solo, "The Joywheel" (Sutton), the soloist being Bandsman

SHIPMENT OF ORE.

LAIM AGAINST A HONGKONG MERCHANT.

The action brought by a London firm, Messrs. John Batt & Co., Ltd., against Messrs. Silva-Netto & Co., exportors of Hongkong, was continued before the Puisne Judge (Mr. Philip Jacks) in the Summary Court. The plaintiffs claimed $852 as damages under an alleged breach of contract, for the sale of 75 tons of Chinese antimony sulphide ore. Mr. L. Andrewes, of Messrs. Johnson, Stokes & Master, appeared for the plaintiffs and Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C., (instructed by Messrs, Leo d'Almada & nephew), represented the defendants.

The facts of the case were that the ore was shipped on certificate by a Hongkong analyst that it contained between 50/55 per cent. of antimony. The shipment was resold by Messra. Batt & Co., to a third party, Messrs, Hallett Sons, who claimed an allowance on the ground that the ore contained an unduly large percentage of oxide, that it was antimony oxysulphide ore, instead of antimony, sulphide ore, as ordered. That it contained the correct percentage of antimony was not disputed.

In the course of cables and letters exchanged, Messrs. Silva-Netto. & Co., suggested referring the matter to arbitration. This was done but the arbitration took place between Messrs. Batt & Co., and Messrs, Silva-Netto & Co.

Messrs. Silva-Netto were in honour went against Messrs. Batt & Co. and reimburse them.

A Case to Answer.

At the last hearing Mr. Alabas" ter submitted that the defence had no case to answer because the arbitration did not take place on defendants' contract but upon a different contract, between Messrs. Batt & Co., and Messrs. Hallett & Sons. This contract (although not produced in Court) appeared to be entirely different because Messrs. Hallett & Sons bought the ore for a special purpose which was not communicated to the suppliers. They wanted it to "grade up some oxide ore of which they happened to have a great deal on hand and they alleged that the particular shipment of antimony sulphide ore which formed the sulf ject of this dispute contained too much oxide to be suitable for their purpose. The defence, on the other hand, argued that the ore was only sold on the usual basis of its antimony content, and that it fulfilled requirements in this

In the present case the special purpose was never mentioned to the supplier. It was undisputed that the ore supplied was of the metallic percentage called for; it was merchantable in the ordinary sense, and that Messrs. Hallett & Sons wanted it for a particular purpose, which apparently it was not suitable, did not affect the issue. .. The defendants fortunately had retained samples of the shipment and had also had samples analysed before dispatch, so that expert evidence was available to prove that the ore was antimony sulphide of and Hallett and Messrs. Silva-Netto and Messrs. Batt, were in the same terms.

Mr. Alabaster disputed this, referring again, to the case of Pontifex v. Ford, quoted at the last hearing, to show that arbitration should be held on the contract actually in dispute.

The Judge said he had found another case which seemed to establish a precedent to the contrary.

The documents that they submitted go to show that the contract was different, and that the purchase by Messrs. Hallett was for a special purpose.

The Contracts.

They had no control over what happened in London; in .Plaintiffs' solicitor submitted this case the Hongkong contract that, having suggested arbitration, was not submitted to arbitration and the Hongkong view was not bound to accept the verdict if it represented. Messrs. Batt represented their own position and made no attempt to meet Messrs Hallett & Sons' submission that they wanted the ore for a special purpose. Mr. Alabaster went on to quote from the correspondence showing that Messrs. Batt knew of this special purpose.

The Judge: But, supposing they did, they only sold them "Chinese Antimony Sulphide Ore." It is necessary that it should be of mer-

RAJAH OF SARAWAK KNIGHTED.

THIRD SUCCESSIVE WHITE RULER.

Sarawak, Aug. 25.-King George has conferred the honours of knighthood upon Vyner Brooke, the only white rajah.

Sir Vyner is the Rajah of Sarawak and rules over a country of 40,000 square miles peopled by semi-civilized Malays.

He is the third white rajah to rule Sarawak. In 1839 Rajah Muda Hassim, a native ruler, assisted by Malay officials, controlled the territory in such a tyrannical manner that the populace were in a state of open revolt. Sir James Brooke, a British navalofficer, suppressed this rebellical and Muda Hassim abdicated in his favour. On his death in 1868 the title passed to his nephew, Sir Charles' Johnson Brooke. Sin Charles was the father of Sir Vyner.

THE QUEEN'S.

AN AMUSING COMEDY,

"Money Talks" which is being . shown again to-day at the Queen's Theatre is one of the most amusing and entertaining films seen in Hongkong for some time, and all those in search of pleasant diversion should make a point of seeing it. Defendant's pleading was a demurrer, setting forth in the first count motion-to make more definite and certain, and in the second, a general denial.

Counsel for the defence summitted that plaintiff had not stated facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

. Plaintiff must state "time, place and date where the alleged defamatory statements were made and by whom uttered." Judge Purdy overruled the demurrer, reminding counsel further that "specific and definite damages remain to be proved by the Court."

If his employer signed a cheque for 20,000 or 30,000 francs, he would occasionally forge another cheque for double the amount, and keep half the money. During a year and a half he thus stole about 3,000,000 francs. But while Le Franc was on holiday recently his employer received an anonymous letter advising him to inspect the cashier's books. On his return the cashier was arrested.

While earning 50,000 francs a year, Le Franc had bought some land near Versailles and had a little villa built on it.

His ambition developed, and he began to forge cheques. He next bought land at Vermouillet, had a small chatcau built, spent over 100,000 francs in laying out a garden, bought motorears, and moved from his 650-franc-a-year flat at Montmartre to an apartment at 10,000 francs.

Principal among the various questions brought up for discussion at the meeting was an offer received from Mr. J. M. da Rocha, proprietor of the firm of Messrs. J. With Mr. Rocha many will wish that his hope might be realised if not in the near, yet in the remote, future. Mr. Rocha submitted to the Committee the offer of the 13 first prizes for the Rice Section of the exhibits. His second offer is to present a sufficient number of illuminated award certificates that might be printed or lithographed and presented to the successful exhibitors. "The design of the certificates will, of course, be left to the Committee, but Mr. Rocha will defray the cost.

The only condition imposed by the donor is that mention be made that the first prizes for the Rice Section are presented by the firm of Messrs. J. M. da Rocha and Co. Needless to say, after discussion, the Committee unanimously agreed to accept the generous offer.

ADMIRALTY COAL STOLEN.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL PLEA.

There appears to be quite an epidemic of thefts of Welsh coal belonging to the Admiralty, Mr. W. Schofield, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, hearing the third case in which the owner of stolen coal.

was charged with being in unlawful possession of two and onetenth tons of coal.

the defence, and described the present case as a very sad one He said that he thought his Worship, after hearing the facts the case, would in his wisdom, efficiency of our forest guards, temper justice with mercy.

The defendant was a marrie woman, but her husband was lunatic and simply roamed about the Colony. He was seldom or the junk. Two or three months ago, the defendant had to borrow a sum of money with which she purchased her cargo junk.

About August 30, she had been engaged by a Naval contractor to convey 50 tons of Naval coal to a Blue Funnel liner. The duties of loading and unloading were entirely in the hands of the contractor's men. Defendant's duties

It was possible that the coolles had put the coal under the boards so that they would finish earlier. Mr. d'Almada pointed out that had the defendant stolen coal she would not have left on board her junk for such a long period." The fokis whom the defendant employed had since absconded and it was possible that they were involved in putting the coal under the boards. His Worship, in fining the defendant $25, said that he thought it was her duty to see that her

PRESERVATION OF TREES.

(To the Editor, Hongkong Telegraph.)

Sir,-In your issue of September 2nd, my attention was drawn to of a junk was charged in respect the fact that the Government is preparing to pass an ordinance The mistress of the cargo junk, giving them powers to proclain: certain areas "Prchibited Areas." It is alleged that this is being done to protect the trees, etc., in Mr. Leo d'Almada appeared for these areas from the depredations of Chinese wood-gatherers.

It seems to me that the best method of protecting our trees from destruction is by an increase, f necessary, in the numbers and rather than the wholesale prevention of the public from enjoying the innocent pleasure of freely traversing what is after all their own property, especially in such a comparatively restricted area as this Colony, where one already feels a sense of confinement.

Further, a critical examination of the present proposal to make the area in the vicinity of Sheko and Big Wave Bay a prohibited area, and that perfectly innocent picnic parties will be persecuted,

UNWANTED "REDS."

Orders for Their Arrest.

Shanghai, Aug. 30.

The police department of the Chinese areas of Shanghai have received special orders from the Nanking Nationalist Government to bring about the arrest of a long list of Communists, said to be in hiding in Shanghai, principally in the International Settlement.

Two Communists whose names are known to the Chinese authorities, have been ordered arrested for having created disturbances at the headquarters of the Kuomintang Party in Cuba. They are also charged with having organipurpose of creating opposition to Kluang Rubber Co., Final of the Kuomintang and to have acted 5% on Pref. and Ordy. as "running dogs" for the Communists in Cuba. These men are reported to be in Shanghai.

The list of men ordered arrested has been sent in Shanghai Chinese authorities and is contained in six groups. The second group contain the names of men wanted for publishing advertisements in newspapers opposing the Nanking Nationalist Government.
